

Electric Art Gift Certificates (purchased online):

General Information

Download and print out this page containing the gift certificate form from your home computer. Check the type of gift you purchased from the list of "Eligible Products" and write the validation number on the line provided in the lower left corner of the gift certificate. The validation number is the same as the order number which appears on your sales invoice at the time of checkout. A copy of the sales invoice is also sent by email to each customer immediately after purchase. If you misplace this information please email us for a copy of your unique validation number. This gift certificate can only be used once and is authenticated using the validation #. You are responsible for keeping this information secure. As a condition of sale you agree that Electric Art will redeem your gift certificate by shipping an item requested by anyone who is able to provide your name and the correct validation #. For your records, write your Val # here:

Rules for Redemption:

We suggest your gift recipient first browse the gallery on our website. Once an item has been selected this person should call or email Electric Art with the gift request. To redeem this gift certificate the recipient must be able to provide the validation # and the name of the person who purchased the certificate. This information is combined together for authentication purposes much like a "User Name & Password" on the internet. The gift recipient is not responsible for any additional costs including sales tax or the original cost of shipping (first delivery attempt).
